

Jennifer Lynne Hamey

Jen resides in Parrish with her longtime significant other, Steve Wood, and their rescue pup, Brock. She is a proud military mom to her son, who currently serves in the Navy.

With a 24-year career in the legal field, Jen has practiced law as an attorney for 17 years. She is licensed in both Ohio and Florida and currently owns and operates a successful private practice in Ellenton.

Community Involvement:

Jen has been actively engaged in the community, serving on several boards and working with many non-profit organizations that support the less fortunate. Her community work includes:

- Serving as President of the Parrish Civic Association for the past two years.
- Being a board member of Take Stock in Children and mentoring one of the students in the program.
- Regularly donating time and money to organizations such as St. Jude, Southeastern Guide Dogs, PACE for Girls, Take Stock in Children, Special Olympics, Wounded Warriors, Florida Sheriff's Department, and Turning Points.
- Supporting local organizations such as Parrish High School Athletic Boosters, Parrish High School Marching Band, Parrish Arts Department, Palmetto Athletics, and the Parrish Civic Association.

As an officer with the Parrish Civic Association Board of Directors, first as Treasurer and now as President, Jen has been a leader in the community through event planning, addressing county issues, and collaborating with residents and businesses to problem-solve and devise resolutions to community issues.
